TECHNOLOGY OUTLOOK 2021: LATEST DEVELOPMENTS -

Focusing “stars” and “hopefuls”

Which technologies will be important in the Swiss economy and society in the coming years? We talk about the „stars“ and „hopefuls“ with authors of the Technology Outlook 2021: In which areas could Switzerland take a pioneering role? Which ones are the stars and which ones are the hopefuls?

Panel:

Max Erick Busse-Grawitz, Technology Transfer Manager, maxon motor AG, author of the chapter on collaborative robots

Prof. Daniel Gyga, Institute for Chemistry and Bioanalytics, School of Life Sciences FHNW, author of the chapter on point-of-care-diagnostics

Alessandra Hool, CEO of the ESM Foundation, Entwicklungsfonds seltene Metalle, author of the chapter on the recycling of rare earths

Prof. Greta Patzke, Department of Chemistry, University of Zurich, author of the chapter on artificial photosynthesis

Dr. Claudia Schärer, Head of early identification and Project Leader Technology Outlook 2021, Swiss Academy of Engineering Sciences SATW

Prof. Anna Valente, Member of the Swiss Science Council, Head of the Laboratory for Automation, Robots and Machines, SUPSI

Moderation: Prof. Marcel Tanner, President of the Swiss Academies of Arts and Sciences

Programme suggestions are always welcome.
